Local support for dog park

Posted Wednesday, August 13, 2008 - 9:59am

Tyler Sibley standing in front of the nine rolls of brand new chain link fence recently donated by Lori Comen and the entire management team at Home Depot Wallingford. Tyler is thrilled with the outpouring of local support for his dog park. "In addition to Home Depot, Dave and Nick Xenelis donated several rolls of fence they had at their construction company, people are calling me asking what they can do to get involved, and we have even received some money before we officially started fundraising." Tyler still needs to purchase all the posts, gates, benches and signs, and hopes that other home improvement centers will be as generous as Home Depot. "Actually installing the fence will be expensive, but Bob and Alicia Miller from Miller Fence have been a big help already, offering guidance and their support." Tyler will also need help from professional tree men to take down a few dead trees, and to chip some of the brush in the area for the dog park. If you want to help, please call Tyler at (860) 349-1954 or e-mail him at TLOUIS93@myway.com.
